DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the mechanical coupling device of wire screen and rebar-type elements; and a doorway frame with a column must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-9, 14, and 31-40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kennedy et al. Patent Number Re. 36,853 in view of Zen Patent Number 6,481,179.

Kennedy '853 teaches all the limitations of the above claims except the doors being made of panels and foam core. Kennedy '853 teaches a door leaf (27, 29) mounted on hinges (115, 117), in a door frame (23), for swinging in a doorway of a mine passage (P) on a column (43). Zen '179 teaches a central core of solidified composition

(4), outer panels (3), filled with a fire-resistant polyurethane foam (column 2, line 22) which through the adhesive foam creates a mechanical coupling of core and panels, frame has top (6), bottom (7), and sides (5), one or more filling holes (column 2, line 66 through column 3, line 4), and rebar-type elements (12) for the coupling of the core (4). It would have been obvious for one skilled in the art to modify the Kennedy '853 invention to use the panels as taught by Zen '179 since it is held to be within the skill of a worker in the art to select these well known light weight yet strong panels to provide the strength and durability of steel yet be produced at very low cost as an obvious design choice.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-9, 14, and 31-40 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
